10 New and Updated Los Angeles-Area Hotels for Meetings and Events

THE WALKTHROUGH 06.06.11 8:00 AM

These new (and newly renovated) properties in and around Los Angeles have meeting rooms, conference facilities, ballrooms, and outdoor spaces that can accommodate groups small and large. So consider these hotels for events, meetings, seminars, and business entertaining.

The Beverly Garland Holiday Inn in North Hollywood recently debuted its redesigned conference space, the Garland Center. Updates include technology improvements, new carpeting, lighting, and cosmetic touches. Six separate meeting spaces include the 132-seat Beverly Garland Theater, which has plush chairs with retractable desks. The Spanish-influenced hotel offers more than 14,500 square feet of event space, including a grand ballroom, which has room for 650 guests, and a landscaped outdoor space.
